4 Days of Masterclasses, Mentoring and Networking

The 6th edition of the annual ETC European Theatre Academy will again take place during the Festival d'Avignon at the beginning of July 2020. It will offer four days of masterclasses and work on own projects with mentors, focusing on the different aspects of curating and managing international theatre collaborations.

The European Theatre Academy is specifically designed for theatre professionals at the beginning of their careers, with potential and ambition to grow internationally.

It will provide an overview of different international collaboration forms and theatre systems, dealing with artistic as well as administrative, financial and legal questions in the European context. Participants will benefit from expert lectures on funding and support, production and curating, touring and accessing foreign theatre markets. Several group work sessions with selected mentors will enable the participants to work on their own projects and delve into practical issues and considerations.

Leading professionals of the international theatre scene will guide the participants and accompany them throughout the Academy which will become a working space of reflection, promotion of good practices and international networking.

The programme will be enriched by performances of the Festival d'Avignon and daily discussions on the performances seen together.
